BATTLE OF BALKANS NEARS CRITICAL STAGE

Allied Forces Retreating Deeper into Aegean Kingdom

SLAV CAPITULATION FREES MASS OF NAZIS FOR ACTION IN GREECE

BULLETIN
London, April 18.—(AP)—The British government announced tonight that Yugoslavia is henceforth to be regarded as enemy occupied territory. The announcement was made by the British board of trade and the Ministry of Economic Warfare, which have taken similar action in the cases of the other Balkan countries overrun by the German army. The last of Yugoslavia's fighting forces capitulated to the Germans today, according to Berlin announcements.

German troops flooding down from the north—presumably from fallen Yugoslavia—drove the Allied armies to execute a "gradual withdrawal to a shorter line of defense" in northern Greece today, and it appeared that the 13-day-old Battle of the Balkans was fast approaching its critical stage.

British Middle East headquarters, acknowledging the Allied retreat deeper into the Aegean kingdom, declared, however, that the German advance had involved a "costly" toll.

Some estimates put the Nazi dead at 50,000.

"The situation is developing unfavorably," a Greek spokesman acknowledged today.

"The struggle against two empires (Germany and Italy) imposed on us by Germany could not last indefinitely."

Dispatches from Athens said at least 10 German divisions—about 120,000 troops—were slashing at the Allied lines, supported by more than 1,000 warplanes.

Australian, New Zealand and other British troops fighting in the Mt. Olympus sector were reported under terrific aerial bombardment, while on the west flank, Nazi panzer columns knifing down the Greek-Albanian border placed the Greeks in new jeopardy.

Yugoslavia's struggle was pronounced ended.

Hitler's high command said surviving troops of Yugoslavia's 1,200,000-man army surrendered unconditionally, effective at noon (5 a. m. EST) after 12 days of fighting.

In the western air war, RAF warplanes retaliated swiftly and violently for the Nazi Luftwaffe's attack on London Wednesday night, blasting the heart of Berlin with the war's heaviest raid on the German capital.

U. S. BOMBERS ARE DELIVERED AT SINGAPORE

Singapore, April 18.—(T)—American-made patrol bombers—the same as the latest additions to the U. S. navy—roared in here today after a trans-Pacific flight.

They were greeted by squadrons of R. A. F. pilots in Brewster-Buffalo fighters which, authorities announced, were in the air within 24 hours of their unloading.

American-built Lockheed Hudsons also roared seaward to meet the big patrol bombers completing their voyage across the south China sea to join British and Australian patrols charged with keeping the empire's eastern sealanes clear.

The Luftwaffe's overnight attacks centered on Portsmouth, English south coast naval base, which was bombed for several hours.

London's millions, expecting a return call, underwent two brief alerts but no bombs fell.

Authoritative quarters in London acknowledged that the situation in Greece was "serious" but that the British-Greek line had not been pierced.

Hitler's High Command said 17,000 prisoners had been taken on the Greek front and that the battle was going successfully for Germany despite "the most difficult terrain and weather conditions."

Other Nazi reports said the Germans had taken many British prisoners in a systematic series of thrusts into northern Thessaly, gateway to southern Greece—and that the invasion was moving ahead "on schedule."

Tragedy in Forest County Village, Which Snuffs Out Lives of Children Visiting Grandparents, Indirectly Claims a Fourth Victim When Aged Neighbor Collapses and Dies After Giving Alarm

COUPLE ESCAPES BY LEAPS FROM WINDOW

Marienville, April 18.—(T)—Three children perished here today in a fire of unknown origin which destroyed the home of their grandparents so quickly firemen were unable to attempt a rescue.

The victims, identified as Bonnie, 10, and Eddie, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Liston, and Elizabeth Hepinger, 9, daughter of Mrs. Ambrose Hepinger, were visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Liston.

The fire indirectly claimed a fourth victim when Mrs. L. E. Songer, 70, a neighbor of the elder Listons, collapsed and died of a heart attack after discovering the fire and spreading the alarm by telephone. She was found unconscious by a son who ran half-clad from the Songer home to sound the village alarm.

The children were trapped in second floor bedrooms of the two-story frame dwelling in the heart of the residential district of this glass-making town in northwest Pennsylvania's Forest county.

The children's piteous screams could be heard by spectators and volunteer firemen who rushed to the scene when the alarm sounded at 4 a. m.

Rescuers made several futile rushes toward the burning home but each time were driven back by the fierce heat of the flames.

"We couldn't even get a ladder up," one volunteer fireman said. "I saw one of the children at an upstairs window but the child disappeared as flames billowed around the window. It was awful."

This witness said the home had "mushroomed into one giant puff of flame" by the time the first fire-fighters arrived.

The Liston children had been living with their grandparents until the close of the school term. Their parents are in Greensburg. (Turn to Page Fifteen)

NEW TAX SOURCE IS UNDECIDED

President Roosevelt, at Press Conference, Assests He Has Not the Faintest Idea How $3,500,000,000 In Levies Ought to be Raised, But Indicates He Still Does Not Like Idea of Sales Tax

PUBLIC STATEMENT UNDER CONSIDERATION

Washington, April 18.—(T)—President Roosevelt asserted today he did not have the faintest idea how $3,500,000,000 in taxes ought to be raised, but he indicated that he still did not like the idea of a sales tax.

Administration officials and congressional leaders of both parties agreed yesterday on a huge program to raise $3,500,000,000 in new revenue next fiscal year to bring government income up to two-thirds of expenditures.

The manner of obtaining the money and the exploration of sources, the president said, is for the determination of the House ways and means committee. Asked what his feeling was on a sales tax, Mr. Roosevelt said it was the same as always.

"That means you do not care for it," he was asked.

Mr. Roosevelt, he replied, expected to make a public statement on the tax problem soon but had not decided how or when.

At his press conference the president expressed belief that American public opinion was not adequately aware of the acuteness of the war situation in Europe but (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Mounting Industrial Production Starts a Downward Trend In Relief Rolls of State

Defense Program as Concealed by Administration and Legislature in Full Swing With Issuance of Proclamation

132,323 ON ROLLS

Harrisburg, April 18.—(T)—Howard L. Russell, state secretary of public assistance, asserted today mounting industrial production has "at last brought about the break" in the relief rolls that he counted on to bear out a sharply reduced budget for aid to the needy in the next two years.

"The break has come now and the drop will be steady from now on," Russell declared.

He pointed to a net reduction of 2,446 cases last week and predicted "this week's reduction will be even bigger though I haven't compiled the complete figures yet."

Russell said the 75,000-case mark would be an all-time low for the state since it undertook organized relief eight years ago may be attained late this summer. It is the figure that must be reached to justify the $120,000,000 relief budget for the next two years.

LABOR DISPUTE MAY TIE UP ALL G. M. FACTORIES

Five-Day Intention to Walk Out Has Been Filed With Michigan Labor Mediation Board in Compliance With State Law, Union Declares

WILL EXPIRE SUNDAY

Detroit, April 18.—(T)—One week after settlement of Svir strike at the Ford Motor Company the CIO's United Automobile workers threatened today to walk out at plants of General Motors Corporation.

R. J. Thomas, union president, announced that a five-day notice of intention to strike had been filed with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in compliance with state law, and at the same time union heads instructed locals in 61 General Motors plants throughout the country to take strike votes.

The actions came after six weeks of negotiations between the corporation, world's largest producer of motorcars, and the union over the latter's demands for amendments to an agreement governing wages and working conditions.

Expiration date of the agreement is Sunday. It automatically renews itself from year to year, however, and union officials said they believed it would be kept in effect beyond Sunday even though no settlement of differences may be reached by that time.

MINE PARLEY IS AGAIN IN STATE OF CONFUSION

New York, April 18.—(T)—Southern soft coal operators who bolted the joint Appalachian wage conference a week ago did not appear today for a negotiating session proposed by the United Mine Workers (CIO) and as a result the whole bituminous situation continued in a state of confusion.

When the suggested hour for resumption of negotiations passed, at 10 a. m. (EST), the union conferees and northern operators already agreed on a new two-year contract—called another meeting at 11 a. m. for themselves and Dr. John R. Steelman, chief federal conciliator, to decide on the next step.

Although the agreement had been accepted by the union and the north, the union held to its refusal to send men back into the mines until an accord for the entire 8-state Appalachian area had been reached.

The southerners, who set up a separate negotiating conference in Washington, withdrew in a row over a union proposal that a 40-cents-a-day wage differential between northern and southern mines be abolished and a flat $7-a-day rate be applied to the whole industry. They contended the $140 increase from $5.60 a day would put many of them out of business.

UMWA President John L. Lewis said the union's policy committee had approved an agreement with northern operators calling for an increase of $1 a day over the basic rate of $6, but had "deemed it inadvisable for the mine workers to divide their forces and expose our membership in the south to economic sanctions that would be even with all the resources of the United States."

His opinion that a Nazi victory is an accomplished fact was expressed last night in an address delivered at a rally sponsored by the America First Committee.

Making an appeal for unity among those groups which oppose U. S. intervention in the war, Lindbergh said that a minority has led the nation toward war "through misinformation and confusion of the issues involved."

"War is not inevitable for this country," he said. "The claim that our participation is inevitable is simply propaganda by those who want to get us in."

"We must face the fact that England is in a desperate position," he continued. "Up to date she has lost every major campaign in which she has participated. Her shipping losses are of the utmost (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Tobey Charges Navy Already Convoing

Washington, April 18.—(T)—Senator Tobey (R-NH) told the senate today that he had information from four unnamed individuals that the navy already is conveying shipments of war materials.

The senator said his information came from "a man who has close contacts with the government," a "government investigator" and two private citizens.

Tobey read the Senate a telegram to President Roosevelt requesting information on administration policy toward convoys and noted he introduced a resolution March 31 forbids convoys.

"Later on that same day," Tobey continued, "a man who had close contacts with the government came to my office and asked if I would be surprised to learn that United States convoys were already being employed, x x x."

"Only yesterday, a government investigator, well-known to me, advised that he had information from within the Maritime Commission that convoys are being secretly employed at this time."

Tobey read a letter he said was from a point "on the Atlantic seaboard" which declared that the navy had been on convoy duty.

The duchess appeared in good health as she and the duke disembarked. They paused on a platform and the duke waved to a crowd of more than 2,000.

Parents Still Hope for Return of Their Son On Anniversary of His Disappearance

Two years ago today after their six-year-old son, Gerald, came home from his first-grade classroom and said "good-bye, mama," and jumped out of the house to play he never came back.

Washington, April 18.—(P)—The War Department announced today that the first contingent of troops had sailed to garrison the new base at Bermuda.

London, April 18.—A bomb whistled through the great dome of famous St. Paul's Cathedral onto the floor of the main auditorium and exploded in the crypt in a recent air raid, it was permitted to be announced today.

London, April 18.—(P)—The British government warned today it would commence "systematic bombing of Rome" if either Athens or Cairo, Egypt, is attacked.

Vichy, France, April 18.—(P)—The French information office announced today that 76 persons were killed and 50 wounded in a recent night RAF bombardment of Brest and the casualty list was still incomplete.

Asuncion, Paraguay, April 18.—(P)—A revolt has been suppressed "with the full support of the armed forces and public opinion," the Paraguayan ministry of the interior said in a statement today.

London, April 18.—(P)—For the third time since the war began the Associated Press staff was forced from its offices when a bomb (apparently a time bomb) landed outside the front door early Thursday morning. Members of the staff, traveling on foot as more bombs fell, moved to the Ministry of Information for four hours, then were permitted to return. Coverage of the raid for American newspapers continued almost without a break.

1st Lutheran Men Are Hosts to Their Wives

Members of the First Lutheran Men's Brotherhood entertained their wives at dinner at 6:15 o'clock last evening in the church dining room, with a very fine attendance.

The men held a brief business session and reported on three barrels of clothing sent yesterday to the Lupton Mission at Lupton, Saskatchewan, Canada. N. G. Hoagvall told of highlights of the Northeast Conference Brotherhood meeting held last week in Brookville.

Roger Webster repeated by request the solo he gave last Sunday morning. "Open the Gates of the Temple" and William E. Neager gave a splendid talk on the battle the Christian church is waging today, with a personal application to the local congregation.

BOTH DRIVERS KILLED WHEN TRUCKS COLLIDE

Reading, Apr. 17—(AP)—Trapped in the cabs of their huge trailer-trucks after a collision in the heart of the residential section here, two men were burned to death shortly before last midnight.

Police identified the victims as John Treese, 30, of Reading, and Samuel Miller, 38, of Terre Hill, Lancaster county. Both bodies were burned almost beyond recognition.

Police said that Miller's clothing truck collided at Fifth and Windor streets with Treese's truck, loaded with mixed freight. With tremendous impact the locked trucks, narrowly missing other vehicles mounted the curb and plowed into a tree. Almost immediately the gasoline tanks exploded and the trapped drivers were seared by flames before an alarm could be sounded.

Brokenstraw Flying School Meanderings

Folks who complain of spring fever should come and take an airplane ride. It really gives one a new perspective and clears the cobwebs off the brain. The field has been taken this week and the school says it is as smooth as an oak floor.

Frank Reisma and Robert McKinney flew to DuBois last week, where Bob successfully passed his tests for private pilot's license. John Brown and J. Rupp flew to Pittsburgh last Thursday.

There is taking flying instruction.

John Brown, of Sheffield, and A. C. Green, a local lad, are our most recent soloists. Both boys are a credit to their wings.

Bob and Sam, of Falconer, flew his plane last week. Dick Green, of Warren, also paid us a visit. A lot of new ships. Mr. and Mrs. "Mushy" Mathis dropped in Saturday in their Cub Coupe with their big hound as passenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reisma, Ed and Don Archbold attended the aviators' party at Lake Pleasant. The feature of the evening was the showing of colored movies of the Corry Airport activities and Dick Green and his flying gang. They were much enjoyed by the guests.

Another session of ground school will be under way shortly and all who are interested (girls included) are invited to attend. Many new students have started taking flight instruction in the past few weeks and this is a busy place these grand spring days.

The patient, Mrs. Elizabeth Harmon, broke her hip in a fall last Saturday. Her son, William H. Harmon, of Punksutawney, claimed the hospital refused to admit her if she was to be attended by Dr. Lorenzo, her family physician. Dr. Lorenzo, a member of the hospital staff 36 years, was dismissed effective April 1. Paul Wheeler, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, said the dismissal was made "only in the interest of better harmony among the staff at the institution." INTRODUCING MARK SMITH

The Times-Mirror joins in welcoming visiting Kiwanians, led by their distinguished International President, Mark A. Smith, who are guests of Warren today.

It is a great honor that Mr. Smith bestows upon the community in selecting this as one of the two clubs in Pennsylvania to be visited on the present tour. His election as president at the Minneapolis convention held last June, was a deserved recognition of long service to Kiwanis and kindred civic and welfare organizations. He is a charter member of the Thomaston, Ga., club, where he served as president in 1927; lieutenant governor in 1933; governor of the Georgia district in 1934; vice chairman International committee on economy and efficiency in public schools in 1935; chairman of the leadership training committee in 1939 and chairman of the finance committee in 1940.

His intense interest in Kiwanis caused him to contribute fine service in other clubs and activities. He is county chairman of the Junior Red Cross; a past commander of the Pete Thurston Post American Legion, and in 1937-38-39-40 served as state chairman of the education committee of the Georgia Department of the American Legion; formerly county chairman of the Warm Springs Foundation; member of the Boy Scout Court of Honor and permanent member of the Thomaston City Parks and Recreation committee; was a member of the Georgia Council for Finnish Relief; member of the County Library Board, and County Welfare Association; and elder in the First Presbyterian church of Thomaston.

Mr. Smith is superintendent of the Thomaston public schools and superintendent of the Upton county schools; past president of the Georgia High School Association and the Georgia Education Association; national director of the Beta Clubs for girls and boys and member of the senate of the Beta Clubs. As member of the legislative committee of the Georgia Education Association Mr. Smith was very active in helping to secure legislation which will enable the schools of Georgia to rank with the best in the country.

Throughout Kiwanis International he is known for his ability as an organizer and for his success as a leader in both club, district and International.

His charming wife, who was entertained at tea this afternoon by wives of local Kiwanians, is the former Anna Moore Davis, of Atlanta. They have a son, Mark Smith, Jr.

To visitors we say this community is proud of its Kiwanis club and proud of the high-type citizens which go to make up its membership. In its years here the Warren Kiwanis club has contributed much to the up-building of the borough.

We are also proud that Warren has been selected for this great gathering today of Kiwanians from throughout northwestern Pennsylvania and western New York. We are honored by your presence and extend our heartiest welcome. May your visit prove profitable and enjoyable.

IT COSTS TO SERVE

William McChesney Martin, president of the New York Stock Exchange, took a salary cut of $3979 a month when he went into the army. That's the difference between his Wall Street salary and the $21 a month he will draw as a recruit.

It is quite a sacrifice. It is spectacular in terms of money, and thus it draws attention.

But it is not greater sacrifice, perhaps it is not as great as the sacrifice which many other men are making who never drew down in a year the salary which Martin drew every month. Sacrifice is not measured in terms of money, and many others are giving up quite as much in terms of their dependents, their careers, and their lives as Martin.

All credit to Martin, of course, for accepting willingly what has come to him. But it would be ungracious to stress Martin's sacrifice unduly, when it is no greater than that of almost every other man who joins the colors. All honor to every one of them!

Felicitations and best wishes to the two young attorneys admitted to practice in Warren county yesterday.—Sidney W. Blackman and Joseph E. Pequinot.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — For the con-men, it's always open season on congressmen.

The jobs of senators and members of the House (and for that matter, any other persons who hold their posts by popular election) are no more secure than their reputations. To become involved in a shady transaction or to be caught playing the goat for some wolf with a slick confidence game is almost political death.

The con-men know this. The congressman knows it. It makes the congressman wary and a hard nut to crack. It makes the smart con-men willing only to try their slickest tricks around Washington. The risk is great, but once they have gotten inside and over the first hurdle, they feel pretty safe—for no politician can afford to raise any hue and cry over the fact that he has played dumb.

It isn't often that congressmen will even whisper off-the-record when they have been bilked by some sharper—but by whispering at least among themselves, they have just broken up a smooth bit of chicanery that for a few days threatened to spread all over the place. I'll tell you the story.

Worked Several Times

The game was worked several times—just how many not even members of Congress themselves know—but just let someone try it today and he will find himself rattling the bars for ex-corse.

A bright well-dressed young man put in his appearance at the congressman's office. He was from the congressman's state. He was a personal friend (or his father was) of some of the congressman's most powerful political allies.

He chatted about them amiably and intimately. He brought the latest bits of gossip and news about them and their families. The conversation ran on and to personal things.

The young man, it seems, was in Washington and in Baltimore and Philadelphia on business. He had inherited quite a fortune. He had just invested it in a large importing business. In a boat which was docked at Baltimore the young man had acquired a large quantity of Scotch whisky.

"I'm not in the whisky business," he explained, "and because I am now on the go all the time, I have no use for it myself. Because so-and-so back home thinks so much of you and because I think so much of him, I'd like to give you half a dozen cases."

Appreciated It

NOW even if the congressman weren't a drinking man, how could he refuse a thing like that—a gift from a friend of a friend and with absolutely no axe to grind. He appreciated it very much.

"All right," said the young man, "that's settled then. I'll have it sent down to you." He started to leave, then said: "Oh, I almost forgot. You don't mind paying the duty, do you. It's just $5.50 a case."

No, the congressman didn't mind. He would write a check. He did. And except for the check, called check, which had been cashed within the hour, that was the last seen or heard of the bright young man. If you think $33 is a paltry sum for so much trouble, remember that it could be worked many times in a day, and many times that in a week or so.

This is just the latest gag that the con-men have thought up to harass poor congressmen. There have been others down through the years, ranging from blackmail to petty touches from men who represent themselves as political down-and-outers. Oddly enough, a scheme somewhat similar to the whisky trick was worked some years ago with fine English tuxedos.

A congressman's life is not an easy one, even if the electorate doesn't let him down.

1. Musicians: Bach, Beethoven, Brahms.

2. Presidents: Arthur, Hayes, Polk.

3. Rulers: Napoleon (the first); Emperor — Joseph of Austria-Hungary; Duke of Windsor.

INTRODUCING MARK SMITH

The Times-Mirror joins in welcoming visiting Kiwanians, led by their distinguished International President, Mark A. Smith, who are guests of Warren today.

It is a great honor that Mr. Smith bestows upon the community in selecting this as one of the two clubs in Pennsylvania to be visited on the present tour. His election as president at the Minneapolis convention held last June, was a deserved recognition of long service to Kiwanis and kindred civic and welfare organizations.
He is a charter member of the Thomaston, Ga., club, where he served as president in 1927; lieutenant governor in 1933; governor of the Georgia district in 1934; vice chairman International committee on economy and efficiency in public schools in 1935; chairman of the leadership training committee in 1939 and chairman of the finance committee in 1940.

His intense interest in Kiwanis caused him to contribute fine service in other clubs and activities. He is county chairman of the Junior Red Cross; a past commander of the Pete Thurston Post American Legion, and in 1937-38-39-40 served as state chairman of the education committee of the Georgia Department of the American Legion; formerly county chairman of the Warm Springs Foundation; member of the Boy Scout
Court of Honor and permanent member of the Thomaston City Parks and Recreation committee; was a member of the Georgia Council for Finnish Relief; member of the County Library Board, and County Welfare Association; and elder in the First Presbyterian church of Thomaston.

Mr. Smith is superintendent of the Thomaston public schools and superintendent of the Upson county schools;
past president of the Georgia High School Association and the Georgia Education Association; national director of the Beta Clubs for girls and boys and member of the senate of the Beta Clubs. As member of the legislative committee of the Georgia Education Association Mr. Smith was very active in helping to secure legislation which will enable the schools of Georgia to rank with the best in the country.

Throughout Kiwanis International he is known for his ability as an organizer and for his success as a leader in both club, district and International.

His charming wife, who was entertained at tea this afternoon by wives of local Kiwanians, is the former Anna Moore Davis, of Atlanta. They have a son, Mark
Smith, Jr.

To visitors we say this community is proud of its Kiwanis club and proud of the high-type citizens which go to make up its membership. In its years here the Warren Kiwanis club has contributed much to the upbuilding of the borough.

We are also proud that Warren has been selected for this great gathering today of Kiwanians from throughout northwestern Pennsylvania and western New York. We are honored by your presence and extend our heartiest welcome. May your visit prove profitable and enjoyable.

IT COSTS TO SERVE

William McChesney Martin, president of the New York Stock Exchange, took a salary cut of $3979 a month when he went into the army. That's the difference between his Wall Street salary and the $21 a month
he will draw as a recruit.

It is quite a sacrifice. It is spectacular in terms of money, and thus it draws attention.

But it is not greater sacrifice, perhaps it is not as great as the sacrifice which many other men are making who never drew down in a year the salary which Martin drew every month. Sacrifice is not measured in terms of money, and many others are giving up quite as much in terms of their dependents, their careers, and their lives as Martin.

All credit to Martin, of course, for accepting willingly what has come to him. But it would be ungracious to stress Martin's sacrifice unduly, when it is no greater than that of almost every other man who joins the colors. All honor to every one of them!

Felicitations and best wishes to the two young attorneys admitted to practice in Warren county yesterday.
—Sidney W. Blackman and Joseph E. Pequignot.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — For the con-men, it's always open season on congressmen.

The jobs of senators and members of the House (and for that matter, any other persons who hold their posts by popular election) are no more secure than their reputations. To become involved in a shady transaction or to be caught playing the goat for some wolf with a slick confidence game is almost political death.

The con-men know this. The congressmen know it. It makes the congressman wary and a hard nut to crack. It makes the smart con-men willing only to try their wildest tricks around Washington. The risk is great, but once they have gotten inside and over the first hurdle, they feel pretty safe—for no politician can afford to raise any hue and cry over the fact that he has played dumb.

Isn't often that congressmen will even whisper off-the-record when they have been bilked by some sharper—but by whispering at least among themselves, they have just broken up a smooth bit of chicanery that for a few days threatened to spread all over the place. I'll tell you the story.

Worked Several Times

THE game was worked several times—just how many not even members of Congress themselves know—but just let someone try it today and he will find himself rattling the bars for exercise.

A bright well-dressed young man put in his appearance at the congressman's office. He was from the congressman's state. He was a personal friend (or his father was) of some of the congressman's most powerful political allies.

He chatted about them amiably and intimately. He brought the latest bits of gossip and news about them and their families.
The conversation ran on and to personal things.

"Faster!"

The young man, it seems, was in Washington and in Baltimore and Philadelphia on business. He had inherited quite a fortune. He had just invested it in a large importing business. In a boat which was docked at Baltimore the young man had acquired a large quantity of Scotch whisky.

"I'm not in the whisky business," he explained, "and because I am now on the go all the time, I have no use for it myself. Because so-and-so back home thinks so much of you and because I think so much of him, I'd like to give you half a dozen cases."

Appreciated It

NOW even if the congressman weren't a drinking man, how could he refuse a thing like that —a gift from a friend of a friend and with absolutely no axe to grind. He appreciated it very much.

"All right," said the young man, "that's settled then. I'll have it sent down to you." He started to leave, then said: "Oh, I almost forgot. You don't mind paying the duty, do you. It's just $5.50 a case?"

No, the congressman didn't mind. He would write a check.
He did. And except for the cancelled check, which had been cashed within the hour, that was the last seen or heard of the bright young man. If you think $33 is a paltry sum for so much trouble, remember that it could be worked many times in a day, and many times that in a week or so.

This is just the latest gag that the con-men have thought up to harass poor congressmen. There have been others down through the years, ranging from blackmail to petty touches from men who represent themselves as political down-and-outers. Oddly enough, a scheme somewhat similar to the whisky trick was worked some years ago with fine
English tweeds.

A congressman's life is not an easy one, even if the electorate doesn't let him down.

5. Just before impact: At impact swing the left arm as far forward as possible with the left side of the body moving to the left. This enables the weight to move forward and to be applied to the blow. Here the left heel is firmly implanted on the ground. It should be noted that if, at impact, the hands are not near the body, it is very difficult to send them after the ball and so sustain the blow.

HERE'S FIRST OF 16 OLYMPIC HANDS; SQUEEZE PROTECTS NO TRUMP CONTRACT BY WM. E. MCKENNEY

The tenth annual World Bridge Olympic was held throughout the world last night. The World Bridge Olympic committee selects 16 hands from the hundreds submitted to them. On some hands the bidding and the opening lead are directed. The committee establishes a par on each hand. Below is the committee's par on Hand No. 1.

Declarer counts that even if he wins four diamonds, plus two hearts and two spades, he will still need a club trick for game. It looks best to try to set up the club suit entire, so that he will not need so many tricks in the red suits.

The first or second spade is won by the king, and a low club is led away from the king. It is not necessary for the first club lead to be made from the North hand. Either defender wins the club and continues spades. North wins and leads his remaining club, forcing out the ace on this or the next round.

Numerous variations of defense are now possible, but declarer can make game whatever happens. If West wins the fourth round of spades and leads a heart, declarer must go up with the ace. If the finesse is taken and loses, game is lost.

The better chance is to rely on the double chance of picking up the diamond queen or of getting a squeeze. When South is put in with the king of diamonds to cash the clubs, on which North discards the queen of hearts and one diamond, the squeeze of East actually develops.

Try-outs Called To Name Cast for Play By Wm. H. Wright

Try-outs for William H. Wright's one-act play, "Some Form Grows Perfect," which won first place in the Warren Players' annual competition, will be held at eight o'clock Monday evening, April 21, at the Wright home, 1 Fourth avenue.

Mrs. Howard Huff, director, is eager to have all interested in acting come to these try-outs for parts. The play will be given at the June student meeting of the club.

"Some Form Grows Perfect" is judged by many who have read it to be better than Mr. Wright's success of last year, "The King Must Not Lack Pain." It, too, is an historical play, written in blank verse. It deals with an incident in the life of the great silver-miner and sculptor, Benvenuto Cellini. The action takes place in Cellini's home on the Via della Roccia in Florence, Italy, in 1564.

The Florentine Cellini, boastful, bragging, with his dagger ever ready to draw his tongue for a jest and his eye for a beautiful girl, is found to be an artist, filled with an artist's confidence, yet filled with misgivings and doubts. On Cellini's mistress, the lovely Mona Lisa, the Castel del Rio falls a heavy part in the play.

Charles de Medici, Duke of Florence, Lorenzo, the duke's paymaster, Bartolo Bandinelli, a local sculptor, and Alessandro Rossini, a master artisan working for Cellini and a priest, are all historical personages and have been presented in their true light as indicated in Cellini's "Memories".

The play is intensely dramatic and gripping and one which the Warren Players will find to their liking.

Anyone who would like to work on stage sets, including costumes or properties is welcome at the try-outs and may discuss plans with Mrs. Wright, program adviser.

EASTER SUNDAY AT RUSSELL

At the Methodist church of Russell, Easter Sunday was observed with a sun-rise service at 6 a. m. in charge of the Epworth League. There was a good attendance including a number from Akeley. Mrs. Hazel Fehman was the speaker. At the 11 o'clock service the pastor baptized six persons, receiving 19 into membership and conducted Holy Communion. A special feature was the admission into membership of a class of boys and girls who had been under instruction for six weeks. Before being received into membership, each boy and girl demonstrated to the large congregation present some of the fruits of their training. An impressive scene at this part of the service was the parents of these boys and girls standing with them at the altar when they were received. It was a service long to be remembered.

SHOWER PARTY FOR MISS ANN REGINA

Miss Ann Regina, to be the bride of Joseph Bruno, of Jamestown, N. Y., on May 17 in St. Joseph's church, was complimented last evening with a linen and personal shower party.

The affair was held at Miss Regina's home, with Rose Marie Pappas entertaining. Prizes for games were awarded to Julia Scallise, of Clarion; Mary Maier and Ann Phillips. A delicious luncheon was served late in the evening to about 40 guests and the bride-elect was showered with pretty gifts.

ATTEND WEDDING
IN BUFFALO CHURCH
Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham and sons, George, Jr., and Robert, of North Warren, left today for Buffalo, N. Y., to attend the wedding of their niece and cousin, Miss Mary Agnes Kane.

Miss Kane will become the bride of George Francis Mix at ten o'clock tomorrow morning in St. Thomas Aquinas church in Buffalo.

Miss Patricia Cunningham, of New York City, daughter of the local couple, will be maid of honor in her cousin's bridal party.

REBECCA WARREN IS PARTY GUEST
Mrs. Robert Capell and Mrs. Harry Thum entertained with a luncheon yesterday at the home of the former, Liberty street, in honor of Miss Rebecca Warren, who is to be the bride of James Kannen on May 3.

The table was attractively decorated with forsythia and jonquils. Guests included Mrs. Ivan Reynolds, of East Orange, N. J.

Young Pianist From New York Pleases In Recital at Philomel

Members and guests of the Philomel Club gathered in the clubhouse last evening to hear a very pleasing piano recital given by Miss Ruth Goldblum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Goldblum, of New York City, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Glassman, Third avenue.

An especially interested listener was Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, with whom the young lady's mother, the former Rebecca Glassman, studied piano for eight years and under whose guidance she was graduated from the Warren Conservatory of Music.

Her program was given with an artistic feeling that was very evident and a fine musical background was demonstrated in the pleasing interpretations given both the classics and the contemporary schools. She plays with an ease and grace that bespeaks a genuine artistic temperament and has a personal presence that is very charming. Her numbers showed a fine regard for tonal qualities and rhythmic expression that is always found in a performer of her years.

Particularly pleasing was her playing of the large movement from the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 31, No. 2, and the most interesting of the Brahms trio, the Rhapsodie in G Minor. Difficulties of the modern school were handled with ease and a feeling for the contemporary mood of expression. In her final group, the Chopin Mazurka was given a particularly fine rendering.

Her gracious response to two familiar compositions as encores was appreciated by the large and enthusiastic audience.

An informal reception was held afterward in the club parlors, with members of both the adult club and the Junior Philomel as hostesses.

DAC Chapter Will Be Represented At National Assembly

The 20th annual general assembly of the National Society, Daughters of the American Colonists, is being held in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., from April 19 through the 21, and the Kanawoga Chapter of Warren is being represented by Mrs. L. L. Hunter and Mrs. Harold R. Hawkey, of Tidoute, and Mrs. Robert C. Seiden, of Norristown, formerly of Warren.

Mrs. Charles Douglas MacCarthy, of Maplewood, N. J., national president, will preside at all sessions. The annual reception and dinner is scheduled at seven o'clock Sunday evening. During this 20th anniversary session, special honors will be accorded founders, incorporators and charter members, among whom is Mrs. Hunter.

The spring meeting of Kanawoga Chapter to be held with Mrs. Harry W. Conarro on May 16, will feature reports from this 20th anniversary occasion and a paper by Mrs. Edward W. Green, of Castle, N. Y., on the subject of colonial toys and games.

NO REHEARSAL

St. Joseph's choir members are reminded that there will be no regular rehearsal period this evening.

Try-outs Called To Name Cast for Play By Wm. H. Wright

Try-outs for William H. Wright's one-act play, "Some Form Grows Perfect", which won first place in the Warren Players' annual competition, will be held at eight o'clock Monday evening, April 21, at the Wright home, 1 Fourth avenue.

Mrs. Howard Huff, director, is eager to have all interested in acting come to these try-outs for parts. The play will be given at the June studio meeting of the club.

"Some Form Grows Perfect" is judged by many who have read it to be better than Mr. Wright's success of last year, "The King Must Not Look Pale". It, too, is an historical play, written in blank verse. It deals with an incident in the life of the great sculptor and sculptor, Benvenuto Cellini. The action takes place in Cellini's home on the Via della Rosa in Florence, Italy, in 1554. The firebrand, Cellini, boastful, bragging, with his dagger ever ready for the draw, his tongue for a jest and his eye for a beautiful girl, is found to be an artist, filled with an artist's confidence, yet filled with misgivings and doubts.

On Cellini's mistress, the lovely Mona Fiore da Castel del Rio, falls a heavy part in the play.

Cosimo de Medici, Duke of Florence, Lazzaro Gornini, the duke's paymaster, Baccio Bandinelli, a rival sculptor, and Alessandro Lustricchi, a master artisan working for Cellini, and a priest, are all historical personages and have been presented in their true light as reflected in Cellini's "Memoirs". The play is intensely dramatic and moving, and one which the Warren Players will find to their liking.

Anyone who would like to work on stage set, lighting, costumes or properties is welcome at the try-outs, and may discuss plans with Mrs. Wright, program adviser.

EASTER SUNDAY AT RUSSELL

At the Methodist church of Russell, Easter Sunday was observed with a sun-rise service at 6 a. m. in charge of the Epworth League. There was a good attendance including a number from Akeley. Mrs. Hazel Fehlman was the speaker. At the 11 o'clock service the pastor baptized six persons, receiving 16 into membership and conducted Holy Communion. A special feature was the admission into membership of a class of boys and girls who had been under instruction for six weeks. Before being received into membership, each boy and girl demonstrated to the large congregation present some of the fruits of their training. An impressive scene at this part of the service was the parents of these boys and girls standing with them at the altar when they were received. It was a service long to be remembered.

SHOWER PARTY FOR MISS ANN REGINA

Miss Ann Regina, to be the bride of Joseph Bruto, of Jamestown, N. Y., on May 17 in St. Joseph's church, was complimented last evening with a linen and personal shower party.

The affair was held at Miss Regina's home, with Rose Marie Pappalardo entertaining. Prizes for games were awarded to Julia Scalse, of Chateaufort; Mary Maier and Ann Phillips. A delicious luncheon was served late in the evening to about 40 guests and the bride-elect was showered with pretty gifts.

ATTEND WEDDING IN BUFFALO CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham and sons, George Jr., and Robert, of North Warren, left today for Buffalo, N. Y., to attend the wedding of their niece and cousin, Miss Mary Agnes Kane. Miss Kane will become the bride of George Francis Mix at ten o'clock tomorrow morning in St. Thomas Aquinas church in Buffalo.

Miss Patricia Cunningham, of New York City, daughter of the local couple, will be maid of honor in her cousin's bridal party.

REBECCA WARREN IS PARTY GUEST

Mrs. Robert Capell and Mrs. Harry Thum entertained with a luncheon yesterday at the home of the former, Liberty street, in honor of Miss Rebecca Warren, who is to be the bride of James Kanne on May 3.

The table was attractively decorated with forsythia and jonquils. Guests included Mrs. Ivan Reynolds, of East Orange, N. J.

Young Pianist From New York Pleases In Recital at Philomel

Members and guests of the Philomel Club gathered in the clubhouse last evening to hear a very pleasing piano recital given by Miss Ruth Goldblum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Goldblum, of New York City, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Glassman, Third avenue.

An especially interested listener was Dr. LeRoy B. Campbell, with whom the young lady's mother, the former Rebecca Glassman, studied piano for eight years and under whose guidance she was graduated from the Warren Conservatory of Music.

Her program was given with an artistic feeling that was very evident and a fine musical background was demonstrated in the pleasing interpretations given both the classics and the contemporary schools. She plays with an ease and grace that bespeaks a genuine artistic temperament and has a personal presence that is very charming. Her numbers showed a fine regard for tonal qualities and rhythmic expression that is not always found in a performer of her years.

Particularly pleasing was her playing of the large movement from the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 31, No. 2, and the most interesting of the Brahms trio, the Rhapsodie in G Minor. Difficulties of the modern school were handled with ease and a feeling for the contemporary mood of expression. In her final group, the Chopin Mazurka was given a particularly fine reading.

Her gracious response with two familiar compositions as encores was appreciated by the large and enthusiastic audience.

An informal reception was held afterward in the club parlors, with members of both the adult club and the Junior Philomel as hostesses.

DAC Chapter Will Be Represented At National Assembly

The 20th annual general assembly of the National Society, Daughters of the American Colonists, is being held in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., from April 19 through the 21, and the Kanawoga Chapter of Warren is being represented by Mrs. L. L. Hunter and Mrs. Harold R. Hawkey, of Tidioute, and Mrs. Robert C. Selden, of Norristown, formerly of Warren.

Mrs. Charles Douglas MacCarthy, of Maplewood, N. J., national president, will preside at all sessions. The annual reception and dinner is scheduled at seven o'clock Sunday evening. During this 20th anniversary session, special honors will be accorded founders, incorporators and charter members, among whom is Mrs. Hunter.

The spring meeting of Kanawoga Chapter, to be held with Mrs. Harry W. Conarro on May 16, will feature reports from this 20th anniversary occasion and a paper by Mrs. Edward W. Green, of Castle, N. Y., on the subject of colonial toys and games.

NO REHEARSAL

St. Joseph's choir members are reminded that there will be no regular rehearsal period this evening.

YOU'RE CERTAINLY A FUNNY GIRL FOR ANYBODY TO MEET WHO'S BEEN UP THE AMAZON FOR A YEAR!

"A witty answer turns on the warmth!" That's Lady Eve's rule for holding her man and it's the one all you repartee artists and smart comeback kids will have to follow if you hope to win the guest tickets that this newspaper and the Library Theatre are awarding in the "The Lady Eve" contest.

For instance, in the scene above from Paramount's "Lady Eve," which comes Sunday to the Library Theatre, what answer would you put in Barbara Stanwyck's mouth for her comeback to Henry Fonda. Actually in the picture, she says:

It's a good thing you weren't up the Amazon for two years."

Can you top that—or equal it? If you think you can, put on your thinking cap and submit your answer to the Times-Mirror puzzle editor at once. Follow these simple rules:

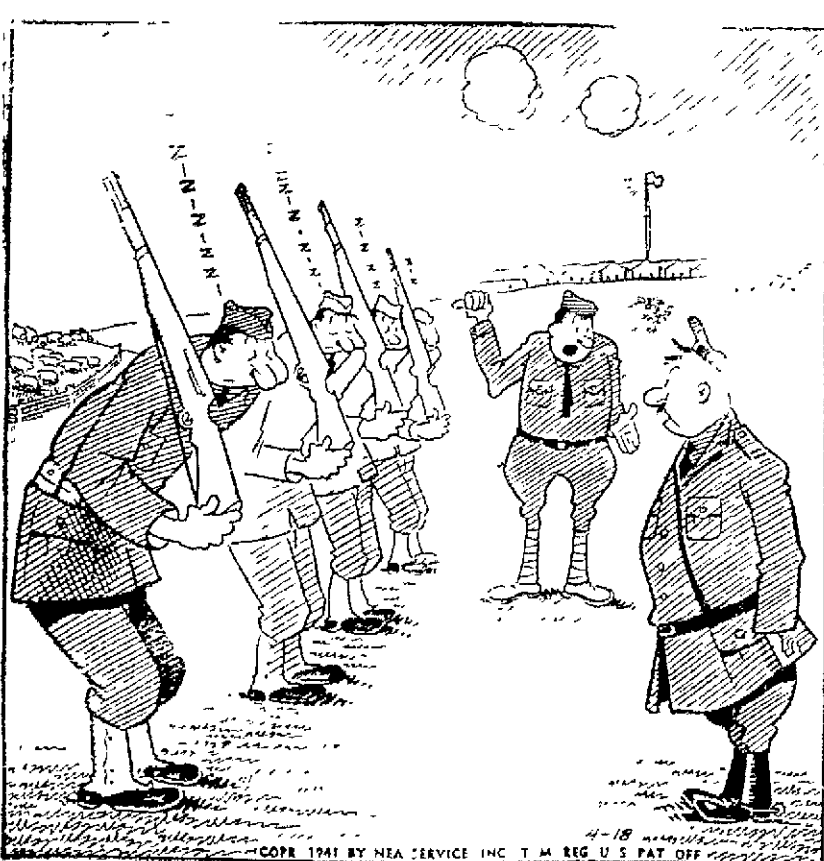

- (1) Limit your Barbara Stanwyck "comeback" to no more than 25 words.
- (2) All entries must be in the hands of the Times-Mirror puzzle editor before noon tomorrow, Saturday, April 19.
- (3) The ten best answers will receive a guest ticket to the Library Theatre.
- (4) Winners will be announced in Saturday evening's edition.

Governor Signs Road Amendment

Governor George A. Wilson of Iowa is shown signing the "Road Protection Resolution," which was passed overwhelmingly by both houses of the legislature. Senator Howard Baldwin, sponsor of the resolution, looks on. The resolution permits voters of the state in 1942 to pass on the proposed constitutional amendment guaranteeing protection to the State's highway funds. It prohibits the diversion or misuse of the gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration revenues for any purpose other than for road construction, maintenance and bond retirement. The measure was passed by the 1939 legislature, but Iowa's constitutional procedure required re-passage this year. Both major political parties actively participated in obtaining adoption of the resolution. Republican Representative Curtis W. Gregory sponsored the resolution in the House, while Democratic Senator Baldwin was its sponsor in the upper chamber. Eleven states now provide this protection to their road funds, and the Iowa legislature became the third in 1941 to approve such an amendment. Similar amendments are now under consideration by the legislatures of six other states.

Zontians Presenting Buffalo Lecturer In John Buchan Story

Considerable interest has been manifested in announcement by the local Zonta Club that Mrs. Ethel Holmes Munsey, of Buffalo, N. Y., has chosen John Buchan's "Pilgrim's Way" for her dramatic book survey next Monday evening in the Beatty school auditorium.

The club has placed tickets on sale at the Jean Carol Hat Shop, at the Warren County Motor Club office, at Wendelboe's. They are also available from all club members or at the door on Monday evening.

Proceeds from this pleasant literary evening will go to club's Christmas fund.

"Pilgrim's Way" has been given some excellent reviews and from one of these is quoted the following:

One of the great men of vision of his day was John Buchan, the late Lord Tweedsmuir of Canada. A diplomat and a friend of diplomats, he saw beneath the veneer of post-World War experiences the reality of today, but never did he lose the vision of a triumphant outcome.

"Pilgrim's Way" is, in the author's own words, an "impression" which the years made upon him. With faith intensified and a keen understanding of the human equation, Lord Tweedsmuir finished his story just one week before his untimely death.

A background of British temperament and government, this book today is a challenge to the thinking people of America and the world. It is one of the "must" books of the season.

AND HELP LADY EVE GET HER MAN! PRIZES

YOU'RE CERTAINLY A FUNNY GIRL FOR ANYBODY TO MEET WHO'S BEEN UP THE AMAZON FOR A YEAR!

"A witty answer turns on the warmth!" That's Lady Eve's rule for holding her man and it's the one all you repartee artists and smart comeback kids will have to follow if you hope to win the guest tickets that this newspaper and the Library Theatre are awarding in the "The Lady Eve" contest.

For instance, in the scene above from Paramount's "Lady Eve," which comes Sunday to the Library Theatre, what answer would you put in Barbara Stanwyck's mouth for her comeback to Henry Fonda. Actually in the picture, she says:

It's a good thing you weren't up the Amazon for two years."

Can you top that—or equal it? If you think you can, put on your thinking cap and submit your answer to the Times-Mirror puzzle editor at once. Follow these simple rules:

- (1) Limit your Barbara Stanwyck "comeback" to no more than 25 words.
- (2) All entries must be in the hands of the Times-Mirror puzzle editor before noon tomorrow, Saturday, April 19.
- (3) The ten best answers will receive a guest ticket to the Library Theatre.
- (4) Winners will be announced in Saturday evening's edition.

Governor Signs Road Amendment

Governor George A. Wilson of Iowa is shown signing the "Road Protection Resolution," which was passed overwhelmingly by both houses of the legislature. Senator Howard Baldwin, sponsor of the resolution, looks on. The resolution permits voters of the state in 1942 to pass on the proposed constitutional amendment guaranteeing protection to the State's highway funds. It prohibits the diversion or misuse of the gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration revenues for any purpose other than for road construction, maintenance and bond retirement. The measure was passed by the 1939 legislature, but Iowa's constitutional procedure required re-passage this year. Both major political parties actively participated in obtaining adoption of the resolution. Republican Representative Curtis W. Gregory sponsored the resolution in the House, while Democratic Senator Baldwin was its sponsor in the upper chamber. Eleven states now provide this protection to their road funds, and the Iowa legislature became the third in 1941 to approve such an amendment. Similar amendments are now under consideration by the legislatures of six other states.

Zontians Presenting Buffalo Lecturer In John Buchan Story

Considerable interest has been manifested in announcement by the local Zonta Club that Mrs. Eitel Holmes Munsey, of Buffalo, N. Y., has chosen John Buchan's "Pilgrim's Way" for her dramatic book survey next Monday evening in the Beaty school auditorium.

The club has placed tickets on sale at the Jean Carol Hat Shop, at the Warren County Motor Club office, at Wendelboe's. They are also available from all club members or at the door on Monday evening.

Proceeds from this pleasant literary evening will go to club's Christmas fund.

"Pilgrim's Way" has been given some excellent reviews and from one of these is quoted the following: One of the great men of vision of his day was John Buchan, the late Lord Tweedsmuir of Canada. A diplomat and a friend of diplomats, he saw beneath the veneer of post-World War experiences the reality of today, but never did he lose the vision of a triumphant outcome.

"Pilgrim's Way" is, in the author's own words, an "impression" which the years made upon him. With faith intensified and a keen understanding of the human equation, Lord Tweedsmuir finished his story just one week before his untimely death.

A background of British temperament and government, this book today is a challenge to the thinking people of America and the world. It is one of the "must" books of the season.

PLAN PARTIES FOR SQUARE DANCE NIGHT
Reports have been received indirectly that several groups have planned informal, private parties for Saturday evening, preceding the old-fashioned square dance at the Woman's Club.

Every person interested in a real old fashioned hoedown is invited to attend this party, which is planned as a benefit for the club's tax fund. Dress will, of course, be informal.

Russell, April 17.—The Misses Alice and Bessie Lindell entertained Saturday evening in honor of Thelma Duell who will become the bride of Clifford Johnson Saturday. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in decorating their home. A bouquet of snapdragons and pussy willows with yellow candles on either side graced the buffet.

Games were played with the prize going to the honor guest.

Gifts were presented in a novel way. A huge umbrella was suspended from the ceiling with streamers suspending from the sides. At one end of each ribbon was a tiny wedding bell and at the other end was a note attached to the other end of the ribbon told her where the gifts were to be found which consisted of many lovely gifts. Lunch was served by the hostesses who were assisted by their mother, Mrs. Andrew Lindell. Guests were present from Falconer, Warren, Akeley, Cleveland and Russell.

NO NEWS IS Bad NEWS

is what keeps a newspaper going. And it's primarily what keeps people going through a newspaper...page after page, front to back.

Anything which does that is good news for advertisers...for the more intense the interest of people in a medium, the greater the advertiser's opportunity to attract attention through that medium to the things he has to sell.

Because the newspaper is so full of important, timely news...news about happenings in other parts of the world, in various sections of the country and in our own home town...it has won for itself an intensity of reader interest that no other medium can match.

And because advertising itself is news...news about products and services...the most natural, the most productive, place for it is the newspaper.

Like all other parts of the paper, newspaper advertising is seen and read by people actively interested in new happenings, new ideas, new products. Today, when news-interest is at such a high pitch, the newspaper is naturally a more vital and profitable advertising medium than ever.

THE BUREAU OF ADVERTISING
AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION OF WHICH (INSERT NAME OF PAPER HERE) IS A MEMBER

SOME OF THE ADVANTAGES

With newspaper advertising you can... (1) reach the LARGEST NUMBER of your potential customers... (2) tell your story to the WHOLE FAMILY... (3) concentrate your efforts on the markets that offer the BEST OPPORTUNITIES... (4) TIME YOUR ADVERTISING to meet your needs and changing conditions... (5) get QUICK RESULTS when you want them... (6) BUILD GOOD-WILL as well as sales... (7) tie your message to THE NEWS and make it more interesting... (8) give your ads a LOCAL TOUCH, a home-town flavor... (9) ILLUSTRATE YOUR PRODUCT and its uses... (10) NAME THE LOCAL STORES that sell your product... (11) step UP DEALER DISTRIBUTION and dealer cooperation... and (12) do all this at a LOWER COST than with any other medium.

Many Interesting New Memorial Books at the Public Library

The new memorial display at the public library this week includes books honoring the memory of Miss Lora Alden, Richard G. Dawson, and Louis J. Holmes. Three important publications have been presented in memory of Miss Lora Alden. The Treasury of American Song by Olin Downes and Elie Siegmeister is a shrewd, intelligent study rich with examples of our "most American music." It is a very happy collaboration admirable in its lucidity and unity. These incontestably American songs that have stirred the hearts of men reflect with striking faithfulness the shifting directions that the current of American thought has taken. Its full accompaniment arranged by Mr. Siegmeister will be found very satisfactory for use around the family piano. The History of the Theatre by George Freedley and John A. Reeves represents an effort to integrate the world theatre in one richly condensed volume. It is a fascinating pageant of the theatre through the ages—brilliant, authoritative, sympathetically analyzed and soundly appraised. It is quickened and illuminated by ancedotes and personalities. The New York Public Library's Theatre Division and the Yale-Rockefeller collection have been drawn on for the hundreds of illustrations. Mr. Freedley is the Head of the Theatre Division and Drama Critic of the New York Morning Telegram. Queen Elizabeth by Theodore Maynard is a biography of England's most enigmatic ruler. This remarkable woman, of whom it was said she was every inch a queen but seldom a gentlewoman, has always been a bewildering biographical subject but Mr. Maynard's recent effort deserves attention. Richard G. Dawson's memory has again been honored with two books. The Retreat of the West and Chinaman's Chance by Dr. No-Yong-Park, who created so much interest at the Rotary Institute this winter. The Retreat of the West has been recommended by Pearl Buck as "required reading for the White Race." Friendly, witty and wise, this scholarly Chinese author and lecturer reviews the whole course of Occidental-Oriental relations from the Middle Ages to the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese War in 1937 in a most revealing manner. His second and more recent book, Chinaman's Chance, is autobiographical. Educated in both the East and West, gathering first-hand information for his lectures and writing, he has become an outstanding interpreter of the Far-eastern problem. One finds in him the subdued wisdom and humor of the East combined with the realism of the West. Louis J. Holmes' memory has also again been honored with the presentation of Carl H. Claudy's Introduction to Freemasonry. Mr. Claudy's long experience as a Masonic speaker and writer have qualified him to write this compact presentation of Masonic teachings in a somewhat simplified form. All of these books have been released for circulation. If not found in the memorial collection they may be reserved on request.

PETTIBONES ANNEX CONEWANGO CROWN

In a sharp reversal of the form that carried them to victories in two of the three rounds, the Yergs rolled only 704 and 800 last night to lose two straight and the Conewango Club title to the Pettibones.

Nel MacDonald and Marshall Parshall had 216 and 200 for their respective clubs in the opener, the only scores of any consequence and the Pettibones copped it by 53 puns.

Hugh Logan's 197 was high in the second and Chet Park's 178 was the best the new champs could muster, but the Pettibones picked up the game and toga, 805 to 800.

Logan, Parshall, and MacDonald hit 545, 525 and 524 in a three-game total for the sweepstakes, with Chet Park hopping over the 500 line by two pins.

Big Starting Field Expected In Derby; Many Winter Winners

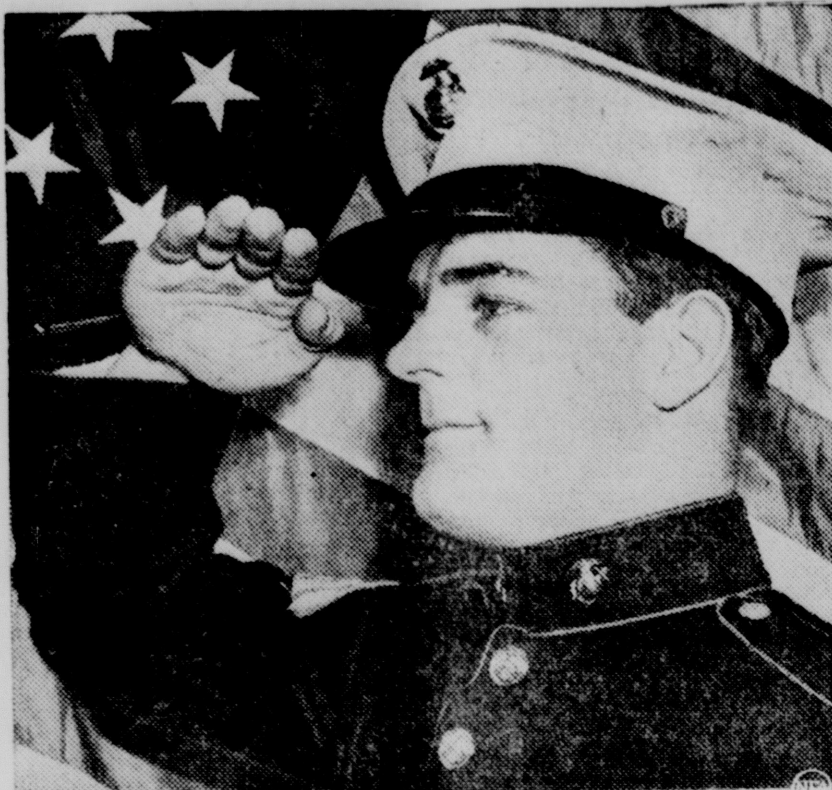

New York, April 18.—(P)—If the gallopers in the running to get to the post. At this writing, it looks like the biggest starting field since War Admiral gave the horse laugh to 19 others back there in '37.

Half of the two dozen, topped by the winter leaders—Dispose, Porter's Cap, Curious Coin and Whirlaway—are just about a dead-eyed cinch to charge out nine days racing in the lists, when the starter hollers "Come on." The others are yes-and-no chances, like Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention, Crispin Oglebay's Ocean Blue and Ogden Phipps' handsome King Cole, with everything depending on how they do from here on in, notably in such tough tests as the Chesapeake tomorrow, the Blue Grass next midweek and the Wood Memorial at Jamaica April 26.

Of the two dozen still regarded as most likely to succeed in getting the ride to the downs, the big hand has been dealt to your old pal Maxie Hirsch, who has four others beside the Texas-owned Flamingo winner, Dispose, as possibilities. If Dispose can't do it, the miracle man of 1935 (remember Bold Venture?) might possibly pull one out of the hat from among Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention, rated as Equipoise's best son; Arnold Hanger's Harvard Square, who has been working first rate at Belmont: Bold Venture's boy, Itabo, stablemate of Dispose in Richard Kleberg's barn, or the River Edge Farm's Sheriff Culklin, who gets a chance at Jamaica today to show how he fits into the picture. If at all, Itabo won his only two-year old outing.

The spring racing to date has produced two likely starters in Robert Morris, owned by J. F. Byers, the Pittsburgh steel man, and Victor Emanuel's Ommission. The former looked quite a bit of race horse in taking a mile and 70 yard decision at Jamaica Monday. And there was nothing wrong with the way Ommission won the Rowe Handicap at Bowie last week by four lengths from older horses.

Rocky Palladino's Little Beans, the $500 yearling "cripple," has split a pair of decision with Whirlaway so far this year and figures to start, off those performances alone.

Cards Stop Reds To Sweep Series; "Rip" Sewell Holds Cubs

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
A few weeks ago, when everybody was guessing and second-guessing baseball's pennant prospects, some of the experts proclaimed that if the St. Louis Cardinals jumped off to a fast start they would run away with the National League race.

Well, the Redbirds are away like a rocket.

They have just won three consecutive games from the world champion Cincinnati Reds and there is no telling where they will stop. It might be today, but it wasn't yesterday.

The two western rivals put on a wild west sideshow, with 18 players taking part for each side, and the Cardinals came out by a 7-6 margin.

The superior power of St. Louis was irresistible, as it may be throughout the year and when the Cardinals came up to the seventh inning trailing 4-1, they solved the problem simply enough by having Jar-jin' Johnny Mize hit a home run with two on and Ernie Koy another with the bases empty. After the Reds went ahead again with two runs in their half of the inning, the Cardinals clinched the decision in the ninth.

Brooklyn's unpredictable Dodge-ers, rated along with the Reds and Cardinals as flag threats, also absorbed their third straight lacing from the New York Giants 7-5 in a sandlot show of 26 hits and four errors.

The Pittsburgh Pirates plastered a 7-2 count on the Chicago Cubs behind the two-hit hurling of Truett (Rip) Sewell, who could have coasted after Vince DiMaggio hit a home run with the bases loaded in the first inning. One of the allowed off Sewell was a homer by Rookie Lou Novikoff.

The Boston Reds bumped off the Phillies 7-5 with a home run attack that would have made the weak-hitters who used to inhabit the Beehive squirm. Max West hit a homer with one on in the third. In the eighth, with the Bees trailing 5-4, Babe Dahlgren, the ex-Yankee, slapped a round-tripper with one on, and finally, Relief Pitcher Wes Ferrell drove out a final homer in the ninth and took credit for the victory.

Harold Smith, who is away to a flying start on his twenty-third year as golf professional at the Conewango Valley Country Club, told your agent yesterday that there is plenty of opportunity for boys to pick up spending money by caddy on the local layout this summer. Of course, when school is out there will be the usual rush to the fairways, but it appears now that there are going to be more golfers than ever at Conewango Valley, which means steady work for the majority of the applicants. Down at Pittsburgh, incidentally, defense production of Smoky City industrial plants has caused an acute shortage of caddies at several clubs, especially those where youths past the 'teen age have been toting bags. Since caddies have deserted the golf courses for the assembly lines, some members have given up golf rather than carry their own bats.

Eighty-four cities, towns and hamlets in the United States are represented by 16 namesake Kentucky Derby champions, the Associated Press points out. "Town" name horses have done well in the Derby, the percentage of winners being slightly less than one every four years. The 16 who have come home first at Louisville are: Buchanan, Montrose, Macbeth, Spokane, Riley, Kingman, Lookout, Halma, Wintergreen, Elwood, Meridian, Worth, Donerail, Omaha and Johnstown. So if you're a hunch player and think this is the year for a townie, you can have your pick of these hay burners with geographical names: San Francisco, Richmond, Bolivar, Harvard Square, New Englander, Havana Lad and Colorado Lad, most of which will probably be scratched before post time. Only 112 are nominated, you know.

Although ball players seldom come out ahead in arguments with the men in blue, Lefty Gomez scored over Umpire Ziggy Sears in the first brush of the season. It happened in North Worth where the Yanks were playing Dallas in an exhibition. Sears, National League ump, was in the grandstand behind the Yank dugout and rehearsed for the regular season by cracking wise about the draft and Senator Gomez. "Too old, too bad," jeered Sears. "Oh, yeah," Gomez retorted. Well, one thing you ump's don't have to worry about is the Selective Service Act. Uncle Sam's Army is awful strict on its eyesight test." And the Blind Tom subsided, it's reported.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, April 18—Hoyt Hall of Auburn and Bill McClellan of Mississippi State have tied for the pole vault in three consecutive meets. Now you tie that one.

Ted Bank, ex-grid coach at U. of Idaho, now is a big shot in the war department's moral department and has been assigned to organize an athletic program for the entire U. S. Army. . . Fritz Zivic, who fights Mike Kaplan in Beantown tonight, was introduced to the Massachusetts house of representatives and invited the entire membership to attend the fight as his guests. . . When promoter Mike Jacobs heard about it, he caught the next plane for Boston, his store teeth clacking. . . They wouldn't let Lew Jenkins say good-bye to his manager, Hyman Caplin as Hyman left for a long visit to Sing Sing.

His Number Up

Joe Marty may be ordered to the army. And the irony in that one is immense.

For it gives a guy the willies. When they raid the lowly Phillies with a view to adding strength to our defense.

They're Back Again

The Wood vs. Wood feud will be resumed when Yale and Colgate lock horns Monday. "Smoky Joe" Wood is the Yale coach, Joe, Jr., will be Yale's pitcher. Colgate's elbow will be Steve Wood, another son, while a third, Bobby, will play first for Colgate. Last year Yale won by a run, although Steve pitched one. This time, reinforced by another Wood, Colgate hopes to square the series. . . Tuesday's opener in Boston was the first Nick Altrock, veteran Washington coach and comedian, has missed in more than 40 years. Nick is laid up with a broken leg. . . Freddy Lindstrom, Knoxville manager, has installed a new set of springs in his legs and put himself on the club's active list. . . Don Meier may be aboard Little Beans in the Derby.

Nice Going, Pap

Mr. Gayle Talbot, who writes those sports nifties for this far-flung organization, called the office this morning to report excitedly: "I have just had another baby."

they got off Lefty Thornton Lee. Joe McCarthy shook up his New York Yankee lineup and got a 9-4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics that was cheering mostly because Lefty Gomez went the route for the first time in more than a year. He looked his old free and easy self in parcelling out seven hits and was never in danger after a combination of five hits and three errors gave the Yanks seven runs in the fourth. Charley Keller collected four hits, including a homer.

80 TEAMS SHOOTING AT ABC TOP KEGLERS

St. Paul, April 18—(AP)—Nine top flight fives from Greater New York will mix with 71 Midwest teams in the American Bowling Congress today in an attempt to topple the Vogel Brothers, Forest Park, Ills., from the lead in the waning pin classic here.

The Vogels hit 3,065 March 30 and has stood off all comers to date.

Nearby Minneapolis, which has never won a national pin title, put in a strong bid yesterday for the singles crown when Ed Mady, 35, rolled 740, two pins short of the score which won the solo title for Ray Brown Terre Haute, Ind., last year at Detroit.

Mady, competing in his sixth ABC, opened with 257, then scored 259 and closed with 224. He drew a 4-6 split in the 10th frame of the last game, the only open frame of his series. His total has been high enough to win 35 out of 40 tournaments and topped the former leader, Martin Carlson, Rockford, Ills., by 10 pins.

LETTERS GIVEN TO WARREN HI CAGERS

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
New York, April 18—Hoyt Hall of Auburn and Bill McClellan of Mississippi State have tied for the pole position in three consecutive meets. Now you tie that one. . . .

Ted Bank, ex-grid coach at U. of Idaho, now is a big shot in the war department's moral department and has been assigned to organize an athletic program for the entire U. S. Army. . . . Fritzie Zivic, who fights Mike Kaplan in Beantown tonight, was introduced to the Massachusetts house of representatives and invited the entire membership to attend the fight as his guests. . . . When promoter Mike Jacobs heard about it, he caught the next plane for Boston, his store teeth clacking. . . . They wouldn't let Lew Jenkins say good-bye to his manager, Hymie Caplin as Hymie left for a long visit to Sing Sing.

His Number Up
Joe Marty may be ordered to the army. And the irony in that one is immense.

For it gives a guy the willies. When they raid the lowly Phillies With a view to adding strength to our defense.

They're Back Again
The Wood vs. Wood feud will be resumed when Yale and Colgate lock horns Monday. "Smoky Joe" Wood is the Yale coach, Joe, Jr., will be Yale's pitcher. Colgate's elbow will be Steve Wood, another son, while a third, Bobby, will play first for Colgate. Last year Yale won by a run, although Steve parked one. This time, reinforced by another Wood, Colgate hopes to square the series. . . .

Tuesday's opener in Boston was the first Nick Altrock, veteran Washington coach and comedian, has missed in more than 40 years. Nick is laid up with a broken leg. . . . Freddy Lindstrom, Knoxville manager, has installed a new set of springs in his legs and put himself on the club's active list. . . . Don Meade may be aboard Little Beans in the Derby.

Nice Going, Pap

Warren's Distinguished Visitors

Arrived from the Warren and Erie Kiwanis Clubs. The group went immediately to the Carver Hotel, where a luncheon in honor of the distinguished visitors was enjoyed.

The reception committee which greeted Mrs. and Mrs. Smith upon their arrival in Erie this morning included not only members of the Kiwanis Clubs in the two cities, but also Erie and Warren city officials.

At this point's luncheon, the international president and his wife were welcomed to Warren by Eugene R. W. Smith, Warren Kiwanis president, who also spoke briefly and both Mr. and Mrs. Smith responded.

This afternoon's program included a bridge-quiz honoring Mrs. Smith and attended by wives of the Warren Kiwanis Club members and several visitors.

Mr. Smith went from the luncheon to the high school, where he spoke before a special assembly.

Many New Books to Be Available At Public Library Saturday Morning

The new books for circulation at the public library Saturday morning at nine o'clock are: Arena by Hallie Flanagan; Battle for Asia by Edgar Snow; Faces About the Cross by C. G. Chappell; France Will Live Again by Samuel Chalmers; The World's Need of Christ by C. A. Ellwood; Versailles Twenty Years After by Paul Birdsell; Psychiatry for the Curious by G. H. Preston; and Flight to the West by Elmer Rice.

In Arena Hallie Flanagan, brilliant and capable director, tells the story of the Federal Theatre group, which she has recently directed. It is an absorbing story for the theatre-minded.

A book compellingly beautiful in format is Samuel Chalmers' France Will Live Again filled as it is with sketches and lithographs.

Paul Birdsell, professor of the literature at Williams College, analyzes and interprets the diplomatic factors which shaped the general character of the Treaty of Versailles in Versailles Twenty Years After.

After, The central figure is Woodrow Wilson whose principles are strongly defended.

Battle for Asia is brilliantly and accurately written by Edgar Snow who has a realistic understanding of the forces at work in China and the outlook for that country after the conflict with Japan ends.

Those whose spirits have been quickened by the Easter season should find further inspiration in Faces About the Cross by C. G. Chappell and The World's Need of Christ by C. A. Ellwood.

About the Cross is composed of 16 character sketches of the people who were near Jesus Christ at the time of his trial and death. The World's Need of Christ is challenging in its concept of a tangible program for a new order.

Psychiatry for the Curious by G. H. Preston and Flight to the West by Elmer Rice should both have many readers.

Any of these books may be reserved as soon as the books are released for circulation.

that it is becoming increasingly aware.

To a question whether he thought reverses suffered in Greece by British and Greek forces had increased the danger to this country, he replied that he did not think the question should be asked or answered.

Further interrogation brought from the president these additional statements bearing on the defense program and aid to countries battling the Axis:

The administration has authorized specific shipments of material to China but Mr. Roosevelt does not know whether any has started on the way across the Pacific.

The chief executive does not see now any steps in prospect similar to a decision to curtail auto production 20 per cent.

The shortage of soft coal resulting from a three-week shutdown of mines has not yet seriously affected the defense program. The president hopes some mines will be running again by next Monday.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada and the president expect to meet somewhere next week.

There was no comment on the freezing of steel prices and the president merely laughed when asked whether he approved that step.

Mr. Roosevelt does not know when tanks will be ready for delivery now.

Widespread congressional support was accorded today to the administration's enormous program of tax increases by which virtually every citizen soon would be called upon to pay a greater share of the government defense-swollen expenditures.

Specific details of the plan to raise $2,500,000,000 in new revenues remained to be disclosed, but all signs indicated that higher income and excise taxes, new sales levies and possibly a tax on wages would dig into the pocketbooks of both the rich and the poor as never before in America.

Treasury experts worked at top speed to whip details into shape for submission to congress next week. The plan will be presented to the House ways and means committee by Secretary Morgenthau at a date yet to be fixed.

AMUSEMENTS

Bob Crosby and His Orchestra Will Appear at the Library Theatre Afternoon and Evening, Tuesday, April 22nd

Bob Crosby, maestro of the Divisland Swing Band, who comes to the Library Theatre on Tuesday through arrangements with Music Corporation of America, comes from a remarkable family.

Harry L. Crosby, Sr., the father, was once an accountant and the boys—there are quite a few of them—used to help mother with the housework.

Today the family is again busy. Bob is being hailed as one of the leading dance band leaders in the country, and his brother Bing has managed to get along in his own way.

The eldest brother, Larry, is Bing's representative; brother Everett is Bing's manager; brother Ted is Bing's publicity man; while Mr. Crosby, the father, is treasurer.

Bob was hardly more than a boy when Bing got his movie "break." But, soon after the leader of the "Bob-cats" began his professional career, singing for contestants at a walkathon in Spokane. Anson Weeks heard him, brought him to San Francisco, then signed Bob.

After two years later, the Dorsey Brothers asked Bob to join their band, and he did. He continued with the Dorseys until he organized his own orchestra. Since then the Dixieland rhythms of Bob and the boys have established the orchestra as one of the foremost in the country. Bob Crosby and his orchestra are heard every Saturday evening on the Camel Caravan, NBC, coast to coast.

With the exception of Loren Wright, who was heard at nine o'clock this morning, other entries compete this afternoon and evening, starting at 4:30 o'clock. Donald Huck and Gail Schuler will appear in the Saturday contests.

It is also of interest here to note that F. Arthur Johnson, of Kane who was eliminated in the finals at Harrisburg last spring by a very narrow margin is competing again this year. He is a pupil of Joseph Suter, of Warren, and has been heard here on several occasions during the season.

According to word received from New Castle today, other entries from this section include ensemble from Tidoute, debate team from the same school, George Walters, Youngsville clarinetist.

Schools with first and second honors and superior and excellent ratings will qualify for the fourth national competition-festival for Region 4, comprising New England and Middle Atlantic States, at Atlantic City, N. J., on May 2-3. Plans are under way to make it possible for local students to go to Atlantic City if they are successful in New Castle.

Many New Books to Be Available At Public Library Saturday Morning

The new books for circulation at the public library Saturday morning at nine o'clock are Arena by Hallie Flanagan; Battle for Asia by Edgar Snow; Faces About the Cross by C. G. Chappell; France Will Live Again by Samuel Chamberlain; The World's Need of Christ by C. A. Ellwood; Versailles Twenty Years After by Paul Birdsall; Psychiatry for the Curious by G. H. Preston; and Flight to the West by Elmer Rice.

In Arena Hallie Flanagan, brilliant and capable director, tells the story of the Federal Theatre group's demise so many regretted. It is an absorbing story for the theatre-minded.

A book compellingly beautiful in format is Samuel Chamberlain's France Will Live Again filled as it is with etchings and lithographs. Paul Birdsall, professor of history at Williams College, analyzes and interprets the diplomatic factors which shaped the general character of the Treaty of Versailles in Versailles Twenty Years

that it is becoming increasingly aware.

To a question whether he thought reverses suffered in Greece by British and Greek forces had increased the danger to this country, he replied that he did not think the question should be asked or answered.

Further interrogation brought from the president these additional statements bearing on the defense program and aid to countries battling the Axis:

The administration has authorized specific shipments of material to China but Mr. Roosevelt does not know whether any has started on the way across the Pacific.

The chief executive does not see now any steps in prospect similar to a decision to curtail auto production 20 per cent.

The shortage of soft coal resulting from a three-week shutdown of mines has not yet seriously affected the defense program. The president hopes some mines will be running again by next Monday.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada and the president expect to meet somewhere next week.

There was no comment on the freezing of steel prices and the president merely laughed when asked whether he approved that step.

Mr. Roosevelt does not know when tanks will be ready for delivery now.

Widespread congressional support was accorded today to the administration's enormous program of tax increases by which virtually every citizen soon would be called upon to pay a greater share of the government defense-swollen expenditures.

Specific details of the plan to raise $3,500,000,000 in new revenues remained to be disclosed, but all signs indicated that higher income and excise taxes, new sales levies and possibly a tax on wages would dig into the pocketbooks of both the rich and the poor as never before in America.

Treasury experts worked at top speed to whip details into shape for submission to congress next week. The plan will be presented to the House ways and means committee by Secretary Morgenthau at a date yet to be fixed.

AMUSEMENTS

Bob Crosby And His Orchestra Will Appear at the Library Theatre Afternoon and Evening, Tuesday, April 22nd

Bob Crosby, maestro of the Dixieland Swing Band, who comes to the Library Theatre on Tuesday through arrangements with Music Corporation of America, comes from a remarkable family.

Harry L. Crosby, Sr., the father, was once an accountant and the boys—there are quite a few of them—used to help mother with the housework.

Today the family is again busy. Bob is being hailed as one of the leading dance band leaders in the country, and big brother Bing has managed to get along in his own way. The eldest brother, Larry, is Bing's representative; brother Everett is Bing's manager; brother Ted is Bing's publicity man; while Mr. Crosby, the father, is treasurer.

Bob was hardly more than a boy when Bing got his movie "break." But, soon after the leader of the "Bob-cats" began his professional career, singing for contestants at a walkathon in Spokane. Anson Weeks heard him, brought him to San Francisco, then signed Bob.

After two years later, the Dorsey Brothers asked Bob to join their band, and he did. He continued with the Dorseys until he organized his own orchestra. Since then the Dixieland rhythms of Bob and the boys have established the orchestra as one of the foremost in the country. Bob Crosby and his orchestra are heard every Saturday evening on the Camel Caravan, NBC, coast to coast.

WILLKIE RETURNING TO PRACTICE OF LAW

New York, April 17.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie is back in his old profession, the law.

Although not yet actually practicing, the 1940 Republican presidential candidate announced yesterday he had joined the law firm of Miller, Owen, Otis and Bailly as senior partner.

He said he would begin active practice early in May after a visit next week to Rushville, Ind., to inspect his five farms.

Willkie's name will be substituted at the head of the firm for that of Nathan I. Miller, former New York governor, who will continue as firm counsel.

"I am going to enjoy it very much," Willkie said. "The law has always been my profession, you know."

Pick of School Musicians and Speakers in State Competing in Finals trek has been provided through the efforts of the School Music Boosters' Club, with the following driving cars: Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson, Don Folkman, Miss Hilma Pearson, Joseph Cannon and Harry A. Summers.

With the exception of Loren Wright, who was heard at nine o'clock this morning, other entries compete this afternoon and evening, starting at 4:30 o'clock. Donald Huck and Gail Schuler will appear in the Saturday contests.

It is also of interest here to note that F. Arthur Johnson, of Kane, who was eliminated in the finals at Harrisburg last spring by a very narrow margin, is competing again this year. He is a pupil of Joseph Suter, of Warren, and has been heard here on several occasions during the season.

According to word received from New Castle today, other entries from this section include ensemble from Tidouste, debate team from the same school, George Walters, Youngsville clarinetist.

Schools with first and second honors and superior and excellent ratings will qualify for the fourth national competition festival for Region 4, comprising New England and Middle Atlantic States, at Atlantic City, N. J., on May 2-3. Plans are under way to make it possible for local students to go to Atlantic City if they are successful in New Castle.

Lindbergh Sees No Chance For England to Win

seriousness, and her cities have been devastated by bombs. x x x

"Personally, I believe it will be a tragedy to the world—a tragedy even to Germany—if the British Empire collapses. But I must tell you frankly that I believe this war was lost by England and France even before it was declared, and that it is not within our power in America today to win the war for England, even though we throw the entire resources of our nation into the conflict."

Lindbergh characterized the sending of arms to Europe a "mistake" which has weakened the nation's position, added to bloodshed in European countries and failed to alter the course of the war.

Willkie Asks Seattle Bishop For An Apology

paper last night said he had wired the bishop:

"I understand that by implication you made a personal attack on me in your Easter sermon. Will you kindly point out to me where it was I spoke of any pledge I had ever made as campaign oratory? If you cannot find it, will you not please issue a public apology?"

Bishop Shaughnessy acknowledged receipt of a telegram signed by Willkie.

New York, April 18.—(P)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America (CIO), said today he had been advised that firearms had been recently shipped to several southern coal companies. The information, he said, came in a letter from Abe Diamond, a field organizer for the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO) at Springfield, Mass.

Pittsburgh, April 18.—(P)—Demanding increased wages, service employees of the West Penn Hospital went on strike today.

The strike did not involve nurses, dietitians and technicians. Supt. H. M. Eichenlaub of the hospital said the strikers, estimated by union sources at 350, were from kitchens, maintenance and other service departments.

Eichenlaub said the "volunteers" would man the service departments.

The strike was called by the State, County and Municipal Workers Local 258 (CIO).

David Kanes, district president of the union, said the union provided for an emergency staff including one elevator operator and kitchen help.

The strike had long been threatened. P. J. Donnelly, president of the local, and a kitchen employee, said a strike was voted in February by a vote of 206 to 7, after efforts to negotiate failed.

Kanes said the union was demanding a minimum monthly wage of $45 as compared with the existing $38; 10 per cent increase for employees earning $45 and more, and minor recognition. Meals are provided with the monthly wages.

Efforts to mediate the strike failed recently after the hospital announced it could not grant any increases because of lack of funds.

A strike in the 61 plants would affect an estimated 160,000 workers. Union officials omitted 13 additional plants from the strike vote notifications in order, they said, to prevent an interruption of defense production.

"In no case will any defense work be struck," a union statement said.

The 13 omitted plants, the union said, have the bulk of defense orders, an estimated $442,500,000.

Walter P. Reuther, director of the UAW-CIO's General Motors department, said that in other plants the local managers would be asked to name the men required to operate defense jobs and these would not be called out in event of a strike.

The union estimated that General Motors' defense orders, in all, aggregate $683,000,000.

Pa., where the father is employed as a molder in a glass factory. Elizabeth Hepfinger had joined her cousins for an overnight visit. Her mother is a widow.

The elder Listons, awakening to find their home enveloped in flames, escaped by leaping from a second floor window. At Kane, 24 miles north of Marienville, where they were taken suffering minor burns and shock, they said they "thought the children had escaped."

Coroner Eugene Pifer, of Forest county, said William Liston, a 71-year-old glass factory worker, told him the fire was caused by an explosion in the front part of the house. Both Liston and his 67-year-old wife said they did not know what might have touched off the explosion but Coroner Pifer believed escaping gas caused the blast.

The children's bodies were recovered in the basement a few hours after the fire.

Mrs. Songer was well known to many in Warren and vicinity, her husband, who died about a year ago, left a number of cousins in the borough and North Warren.

certain about participating, while McKeesport officials were definitely opposed.

For the most part Pittsburgh resident indicated they would cooperate wholeheartedly with the army's attempt to develop a plan for protecting the nation's largest steel-producing center from any aerial attack.

Plans were complete even to asking pedestrians not to smoke for the five minutes. Drivers of automobiles and street cars were asked to stop and householders requested to shade lights in their homes. Trains and river boats are to carry on as usual.

SLAMMING OF DOOR ROUTES THEATRE YEGG

Greensburg, April 18.—(P)—The slamming of a door routed a nervous gunman from a theatre office here last night—without his expected loot of several hundred dollars.

The would-be robber, shielding a revolver with his hat, entered the office in the Manos theatre building about 9 p. m. and ordered Anthony Collicini, assistant manager, and three women cashiers to hand over the day's receipts of the three Warner Brothers theatres here.

Then he heard Manager J. K. Freeman, who was unaware of the robbery attempt, talking on a telephone in an inner office. The gunman entered Freeman's office and Collicini ran out to summon police, slamming a door after him. The gunman, startled, fled post haste.

RIVER ROUGE PLANT SCENE OF ALTERCATION

Detroit, April 18.—(P)—Two members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) were treated for facial injuries at the union first aid station this morning following a reported altercation with negro foundry workers at the Ford Motor Co. River Rouge plant.

Efforts to resume full-time production at the huge plant, scene of a 10-day UAW-CIO strike that ended last Friday, continued without interruption, however.

Spokesman at the UAW-CIO Ford Organizing headquarters said they were informed that other men, including union members, were injured in the fighting and received first aid treatment at company stations in the plant.

SCARE OVER CHILD
Carbondale, April 18.—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duclos summoned police last night and reported disappearance of their daughter Mary. They feared the child had fallen into the Lackawanna river. Seven officers and 100 volunteers searched the countryside for several hours until Duclos called them off with the announcement Mary had been found asleep under her bed.

The rolls now carry 132,323 cases representing 325,317 persons. Weekly expenditures average $780,000. The 75,000 case load mark would mean the expenditure of approximately $5,000,000 a month. The expense of relief to the state has in past years reached as high as $10,000,000 a month.

Coincident with Russell's disclosure came an announcement by Col. Philip Mathews, state director of the WPA, that he has laid off 6,500 "white collar" workers and will dismiss another 8,500 by the end of this month. The reduction of Pennsylvania's quota from 125,000 to 110,000 is being applied entirely to this group attached to the administrative staff the writers and art projects.

The state's defense program as conceived by the administration and the legislature got into full swing with Governor James issuing a proclamation which gave formal authority to the new defense council. At the time Dr. Arnold C. Marts, who is taking a year's leave of absence from the presidency of Bucknell College, took up his duties as executive director of the council, Headquarters are being set up in the capitol.

Washington, April 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt told reporters today the Interstate Commerce Commission is looking into the problem of freight differentials as a factor in the soft coal dispute and declared that the differentials discriminated against the south in many respects.

The question of rate differences for rail freight between the north and south, he said, has been a burning issue for many years. While the ICC is looking into the matter, he said in reply to a question, it would take a long time to effect any change in the differential.

Someday I'll Find You

BY MARGARET WIDEMER

YESTERDAY: One minute Eileen Gardner had thought her life pretty well in hand, marriage with Jordan Estlin in the offing. But in the midst of her post-graduation party Eileen jumped literally into the arms of a man named Martin, and now she has tracked Martin to another party, ostensibly to return the little gold ski he lost. Martin's group is just leaving.

Chapter Four Desperate Cry

THE crowd surged forward. They were pressing close to the distinguished group as it crossed to the door. Eileen tried to force her way through, to get at least close enough to Martin to catch his eyes, to quickly ask his name and shove the ski into his hand.

But the people who had already met the party, the very important university and society set, the various notabilities who had been bidden to meet Miss Willesdon and the other famous ones with her, were a solid mass around the party company. Their voices rose loud.

Eileen, despairing, still tried to force herself through. But she was little and slender, and notabilities have a way of fattening in middle age. She merely got a terrible look from the two nearest dowagers.

"This isn't a bargain sale, young woman," the wife of the biggest businessman in the city hissed at her. It was not until the others were halfway down the awninged pavement to their cars that Eileen got free, even to see them.

"Martin!" she called desperately.

He was just helping the shiny-haired young secretary into the limousine. He turned at the voice; he looked up and laughed and waved. Then he was inside, the door slammed, and he was gone.

The group inside the hall loosened, fell apart into chattering smaller units with a thrilled and scrupled air. Eileen heard the scraps of talk: "Isn't she wonderful?" "The dear Senator is so simple and genuine." "They are doing a wonderful work." And a couple of gruff dissenting male voices: "Futile." "Lot of poppycock, these South American missions."

Not a word about Martin. . . . Martin, who had flown two thousand miles to say good-bye to someone in the group. She had to know. She would know.

She gripped the arm of the nearest girl. A girl would know. Annette Noyes, the daughter of a social leader, a cool, correct, rather old young woman in eye-glasses and a red chiffon import. "Annette. Who was that blond boy in flying clothes who came down the stairs with the South American party?"

She tried not to seem eager. Annette never was.

Annette never was, however—for her. "Nobody seems to know," she answered with—for her—excitement. "He dashed in just as they all went up to the dressing rooms to get their wraps and ran upstairs. The women poured out of the dressing rooms to make a fuss over him—everybody was acting as if he was Clark Gable. There wasn't time to introduce him to the hostess, or they didn't want to. Somebody said he'd flown from New York just to say good-bye to somebody in the party, and was just catching a steamer from California to somewhere. He might have been engaged to any of those three girls, the way they acted."

Annette looked annoyed. She plainly felt it was discourteous. "Then he was going to New Zealand?"

"Did you know him?" Annette demanded.

"No—no." Eileen slid away, unheeding Annette's avid questioning. She tried the hostess, who was not too pleased at being stopped, as she trotted to a back room with some cronies for an after-party discussion.

"I don't know," Mrs. Onderdonk said. "Really, the manners of the present day, my dear child. . . . He crashed in, gazed at them all. He ran upstairs, burst into the women's dressing room. Came back without a word to me—to me, the hostess!"

"Possibly some important secret message," suggested another of the women; her prominent eyes widened at the idea. "You know, after all, Ida, nothing is too wild to happen. It might have been one of the young Roosevelt's they are all blond—"

"I know them. It wasn't snapped Mrs. Onderdonk. "A playboy, that was what he was. What he had all the marks of being. Flying across the continent that crazy way for two minutes with some girl in the group. Some decadent young New York waster."

No Luck

EILEEN let the group of fussing dowagers drop past her. Older people were such idiots. She walked to the back of the rooms and found a telephone. The airport.

The airport did not know. It seemed that to her that they almost overdid not knowing. And then it occurred to her that there were people with private flying fields. And that perhaps that was where Martin had taken off. But that was a dead end. You couldn't find out that way.

Eileen stopped herself, as she came out of the little telephone room. Was she crazy—clever, capable little Eileen Gardner, who had been planning her life so cannily and carefully till now? She looked around the room. Jordan had lost her. He was up at the other end of the farthest parlor. He was talking agreeably to one of the older professors; one of a black-coated group who were standing round a mantelpiece, gossiping and relaxed. The sight of him, so usual, so kind, so sane, so ambitious, should have pulled her back to herself as she had been.

She took one step toward him. Then she halted. There was another group, near them. Not so important; the women's dresses were brighter and more trimmed and less expensive, the men laughed louder—a couple of voices with a foreign accent echoed toward her. The musical and artistic group, drawn together in secret boredom with the others, clustered in chairs and on a stool or so.

One man had a leg thrown over his chair arm, one of the younger women was on a floor cushion—even here in the sacred Onderdonk mansion. The group's center was a middle-aged woman with a tanned, plump, intense face and long banged hair, filleted with unbecoming gold ribbon that had probably by its creases come off a candy box. Her dress was artistic but badly made, and her shoes were wrong for it.

But her vitality made up for all that. She was laughing and gesticulating with one hand; the other, as usual, imprisoned in that of the dark man with a crumpled shirt front who sat close by her, his spectacled eyes doglike on hers. The Weigands. Eileen came close to them. She stood above them, and waited till Martha Weigand's last staccato sentence came to its close. Then she spoke, deliberately.

"I wanted to talk to you. That audition you wrote me about, Mrs. Weigand."

Retrospect

"IT ISN'T like her," her aunt said. She looked up from the pile of exercises she was correcting.

The neat, little old mission desk, in a corner of the square, trim, inexpensively pretty living room, was what Eileen always remembered as her aunt's natural background. She belonged there, much more than at any of her other occupations.

Miss Gardner had a life which, she said brightly, was a very satisfactory one. A broad life, she called it, with innocent pride. She and Helen Doran were popular with the other teachers in their school.

There was their group—two tables of bridge—which met fortnightly on Friday evenings, with a couple of bachelor teachers, a married assistant principal and his wife. It had small jokes which had become more ingrained for a generation; it had predestined partners, who knew each other's ways; it had a final gala night once a winter when the gentlemen took the ladies to a real show, with a two-dollar table d'hôte dinner beforehand.

When Louise Gardner's brother and sister-in-law had died, close together, of flu in a bad flu winter in the late twenties, Miss Lou had taken over sixteen-year-old Eileen as a matter of course. Everybody had always had high hopes about Eileen. Even Helen Doran, who had been pretty and popular in a tall, dark, serious way, and had lost her lover in the World War. The two women felt that it was a sort of carrying on the torch when the boys began to flood the little apartment; they smiled reminiscently over telephone calls by shy, gruff young voices, and high-school girls giggling with Eileen in little groups after school.

Miss Louise didn't know it, but in her dismay at Eileen's decision to go a hundred miles away and take a job that did not pay a living wage, there was not only an unselfish concern for her niece's welfare, but dignity at losing her greatest pride and most valuable possession.

"But darling, any moron can go sing love songs down a radio," she mourned. "What about your intellectual life? And you had such a high I. Q."

"Black mark for brains," Eileen quipped to herself. She remembered every word Martin had said in that brief ten minutes, it seemed.

She paused in her work. She was sorting a pile of sheet music, on the long, narrow, and mahogany-stained table that served for a living-room piece and a dining table. Its makeshift elegance was all of a piece, she suddenly realized, with all of Aunt Louise's ways. She wanted, impatiently, either to eat sitting on a packing box or in a room especially for dining. Her usually deft hands blundered, and the plaster-bronzed book end in the shape of Rodin's "Thinker" went over and was just saved.

"But any moron can be a secretary to a professor, too," she said.

"It's safe."

Eileen laughed. "Who wants to be safe?"

"It probably wouldn't be for long. I'd like to see you in a little home of your own."

"They have them in lots of places besides here," Eileen said demurely. "Or perhaps, if you married some kind of men, you might prefer just alighting for a while and going on again." A shuck in New Zealand. A casual hut in Hawaii.

President Sheffer

The Rev. H. Reed Sheffer, president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church, will address members of the First Lutheran church at the Sunday morning service.

The occasion of his visit at this time is the inauguration of the Centennial Campaign Fund of the local church. A sum of $6,750 will be sought in special contributions during the next six months to erase indebtedness and improve the church building in preparation for the 1942 centennial of the congregation.

The campaign begins on Sunday and nearly 100 workers will be commissioned at the morning worship service for the work of contacting the membership in the next ten days in regard to the gifts for the centennial fund.

Card reminders were mailed yesterday to all those who are to participate in the solicitation, asking that they make every effort to be present at the instruction dinner at 6:15 o'clock this evening in the church dining room. Final details will be explained and canvassing materials issued.

SHORT ORDER COOK SENTENCED TO CHAIR

Norristown, April 19.—(P.) William J. "Whitely" Earnest, Philadelphia short order cook convicted of the murder of Mrs. Ethel Angier Atkins, 24, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary by Judge William F. Dannehower.

Earnest heard his fate calmly and remained silent when Judge Dannehower asked him if he had anything to say.

William F. Fox and Gilbert P. High, court-appointed counsel for Earnest, announced immediately that they would appeal to the State Superior Court. Judge Dannehower refused a similar appeal earlier this week.
